

FACULTY'S BIOGRAPHIES

Dr Philip CHEONG

*Singapore General Hospital
Singapore*

Philip Cheong is a principal physiotherapist working in Singapore General Hospital. Prior to joining SGH in 2009, he worked in private practice in Perth, Western Australia.

He recently returned to SGH after undertaking a Clinical Doctorate degree in Curtin University. Philip's doctoral thesis is currently under review and is titled "Evaluation of Predictors for Persistent Pain Post-Total Knee Replacement".

Philip is deeply passionate about research in musculoskeletal diseases, risk stratified care management and pain science.